Not included in the table, there were, in Adrian village, one cabinet factory; one pottery; one tanner; and one iron foundry. And in Tecumseh, two carding machines; one cloth dressing shop, and one distillery--and an iron foundry in Clinton. By consulting a history of Jefferson county, N. Y. , the county from which Musgrove Evans. J. W. Brown, and so many others of the first settlers of Lenawee county came, I find that Musgrove Evans had been employed in 1811, or earlier, as a surveyor, by a Mr. LeRay, a French nobleman, who owned a large tract of land in Jefferson county; and that in 1818 Mr. Evans was also acting as land agent for Mons. LeRay, and was the means of bringing on quite a number of Quaker families from Philadelphia or vicinity. He also acted as one of three commissioners, appointed by the...
