Excerpt: .a proposition was repugnant to his taste and sensitive nature. He died in his native town at the age of sixty-six, leaving behind him a little daughter, the fruit of a marriage contracted late in life. Concerning the hymn alluded to, we have amply sufficient proofs before us, that the original manuscript was written by Mr. V1uu in 1822. This hymn, with a number of others, was placed in the hands of Rev. ISAAC JON!- .5, the former rector of the church within the pale of which Mr. VVARD was reared. About 1826, Mr. ONES took this collection of hymns to the Episcopal Convention, and presented the same to the committee appointed for the revision of the hymns in the Book of Common Prayer. Copies of several of Mr. VARD s sacred effusions were taken by this committee. hen the revised and augmented edition...
