Excerpt: . CHAPTER IV. GBAND MEETING IN THE DUKBAR-TENT. At a little before five o'clock, the Colonel lending me one of his chargers, we proceeded to the durbar-tent specified in the orders; we passed the camps of two other regiments on the way, and fell in with another officer or two riding the same route, besides two or three dozen native chiefs--they were evidently gaily got up for the occasion--some of them literally shone with gold braiding, while the unique snow-white petticoats of the Albanians contrasted well with the yellow colour of the precious metal scattered so profusely about, both on their own persons and on their horses. Of the beasts themselves I can only say that, while the horses of the Albanian regiments showed no breeding, and were, generally speaking, small to a fault, those of the Arabs were the reverse in every respect;...
