OCLC Number: (OCoLC)44723117 Subject: Tactical nuclear weapons -- Russia (Federation) Excerpt: . . . toward the global abolition of nuclear weapons. In a surprising turn of events, General Butler expressed his apparently new-found belief that nuclear weapons have no defensible role. . . and that broader consequences of their employment 1 transcend any military utility. The following day, a group of 61 retired generals and admirals from 17 countries joined in issuing a statement calling for: significant cuts in current nuclear stockpiles by all nations that currently possess nuclear weapons; the removal of nuclear weapons from alert postures and substantial reductions in their readiness; a long-term international policy based on the principle of continuous, complete and irrevocable elimination of 2 nuclear weapons. Among this groups recommendations was a call for the United States and Russia to continue the START process, and, as soon as practicable, to cut down to 1000 3 In the judgment of these former to 1500 warheads each and possibly lower. military officers, such a move...
